SYNAPSE is a firm specialized in the management of research and development projects in the biomedical sector, working with companies at both national and international levels (pharmaceutical companies, biotechnology companies, research centres, academia, hospitals, etc).

Our partners' goal is to attract and lead large research projects in the biomedical sector for which they need professional and specialised managerial support.

SYNAPSE focuses on research projects that are highly innovative, large, ambitious (with several million Euros funding), distributed (built on the collaboration of several institutions) and internationally oriented (with broad expertise in projects funded by the European Commission).
